September and October Meeting and Program

Our September 24 program will feature Jennifer Roycroft of We're Sew Creative. She will tell us about the various rulers that are designed to make our quilting easier and more precise.

Our October 22 meeting will feature Georgia Bonesteel. She has been one of the movers and shakers in the renewed interest in quilting. Don't miss this wonderful opportunity. She will present a lecture, "You Can Be Creative". She will present a workshop on October 23 on Strip Picture Piecing. See Marsha Brodsky for workshop details.

Mary Jo Belk will update the guild as soon as possible on the issues surrounding our meeting place. She will discuss this in more detail at the September meeting.

UPDATE: September QuiltFest has been cancelled.

Minutes of LKN Quilters—August 27, 2013

We started our meeting at 6:30 so that we could have dinner together to celebrate the Quilt Show success. Marsha Brodsky filled in for Mary Jo Belk who is on vacation. Newcomers were introduced and we had a very short business meeting.

Cindy Magee said she has ordered new books for the library which should be here soon.

Linus Quilts - The work day is September 7th from 10-3, please let Coleen know if you are coming.

Dottie won the fat quarter drawing and Teal is for next month.

Joyce went over quilt show items, saying that we need to fill out a survey and submit recommendations. She will be sending this form out. 602 people attended the quilt show and we made $7,107.

Marsha Brodsky announced that we probably need to start looking for a new place to meet as the church is frowning on us exchanging any money. Our speakers would not be able to sell anything when they came to speak, no 50/50, no auction, no charging for workshops, etc. We need ideas of where to meet. The board has to meet about this and Quiltfest is cancelled until this is resolved.

We had a dinner of sub sandwiches and the best desert ever. J

We had the three drawings and here are the winners:

Bobbie Poole won the Donation Quilt.

Sharon Parrott won the big Basket.

Louanne Schweitzer won the Linus Quilt.

We had an elaborate show and tell of all the winner's entries. Everybody did a great job!!

Respectfully Submitted,

Dale French
Secretary

A request from Mary Jo Belk...

Some of us receive requests via e-mail for help learning to quilt or repairing an old quilt. If you would be interested in helping someone with these projects, please contact Mary Jo Belk. She would give you contact information for those persons and you can talk with them to see whether you would like to do it.

Upcoming Workshop

The Brushy Mountain Quilters Guild is sponsoring a workshop in November. It features classes at the Hiddenite Center Educational Complex. It is open to all. For additional information go to the website below.

Quilt Show Notes...

Dear Lake Norman Quilters,

Thank you again for doing such an amazing job with the quilt show. Thank you to all who took the post-show survey. Your comments and criticisms are all very valuable and will be passed on to the next quilt show board.

A notebook is being compiled with all information and guides pertinent to our quilt show. Each individual committee will also have a folder with needed information. Forms and spreadsheets will all be on CD's. Now all that is needed is the 2015 chairperson. If you are considering chairing this important and gratifying event, please feel free to contact me with any questions. I am willing to come on board in 2015 in an advisory capacity.

Now get working on those 2015 entries!

Joyce Mullis
